The directors (who are also the charity's Trustees) present their report and the unaudited accounts for the year ended 30 November 2018.

Objects of the charity

The charity's objects are, across the United Kingdom:

- 1) the relief of elderly persons with dementia and/or advanced Parkinson's Disease and/or similar disabilities and the relief of carers who are caring for these people at home in the United Kingdom; and
- 2) to advance the education of the public in dementia and/or advanced Parkinson's Disease and/or similar disabilities.

Main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects

In planning our activities, we kept in mind the Charity Commission's guidance on public benefit at our directors' meetings.

Our activities for the public benefit in our tenth year included: raising money; responding to enquiries and requests for help from people with dementia and from their families and loved ones; preparing publicity material; maintaining and building upon our volunteer support group; maintaining and launching a new website; undertaking public relations and publicity activities; speaking at national conferences; starting our new collaborative project with Christ Church, Gipsy Hill, in South-East London; working with several other charities in trying to secure money to undertake new joint projects; planning and working up possible new major projects for the future; planning and delivering a free conference about the future of dementia.

Summary of our main achievements in our tenth year

The focus of our activities remained rooted in the concept of supporting people who care for their loved ones with dementia and/ or advanced Parkinson's disease in their own homes.

Our tenth year has seen us consolidating our work and further developing it across the UK. Our main achievements were again directly related to two major projects with our current established partner charities.

Our collaborative venture with St Cuthbert's Hospice in Durham continues. The members of this hospice were inspired two years ago at the event funded by Hope for Home to start a new Namaste service, modelled on our service in Newham. There were no funds available to undertake this work there, and in the interim the Trustees of Hope for Home worked very closely with the senior team at St Cuthbert's, helping them to write bids for this new project and supporting them to bring their new service to fruition.

The Hope for Home Trustees are delighted to report that this project is flourishing, with many families benefitting from this exciting new service in the North East.

Our original major project, our very successful collaborative partnership with St Joseph's Hospice in Hackney, East London, continues to thrive. Hope for Home seed-funded this for two years originally. We believe that this was the first project of its kind in the world, training local volunteers to support carers of people with advanced dementia in their own family homes, using a "Namaste" approach.

The term “Namaste” means “honouring the spirit within” and it involves a holistic approach to people with dementia, including use of aromatherapy, touch, music and other creative arts. It has been used for many years in the USA and in some areas in England, mostly for people who live in care homes.

In the intervening four years since our funding started, the positive impact of our work became very apparent to other local communities and word spread rapidly about the success of our project. This work is now replicated and funded by the NHS for the residents of the London Boroughs of Hackney and Tower Hamlets, with St Joseph’s. That work continues now.

In addition, the national special interest group for people involved with dementia care, set up by Hospice UK because of our funded project with them two years ago, continues to grow across the UK, with an ever-expanding Community of Practice operated via Hospice UK.

Our new project with Christ Church, Gipsy Hill in association with St Christopher’s Hospice, in South-East London builds upon the success of our Namaste project in Newham and, in addition, includes more direct support for carers. Our formal independent evaluation of our Newham project indicated that, although carers were very appreciative of the support from trained volunteers for their loved ones with dementia, they themselves would welcome more direct support.

Accordingly, our new project in Gipsy Hill includes new elements to help achieve this. The work involves the weekly running of a drop-in group for people with dementia and their carers, and the trained volunteers will have a brief to give time to the carers themselves. In addition, people with dementia were matched with trained volunteers who visited them and their unpaid carers at home weekly.

In October, we ran a free national workshop entitled “Dementia Care at Home: The Agenda for the Next 5 years”. This was held in collaboration with Hospice UK, who very generously gave us their venue at no charge. The event was significantly over-subscribed, with over 65 participants attending from across the UK. Attendees included academics, members of the public, NHS and hospice clinicians from a variety of specialties, people delivering and managing social care, and representatives from the private sector. Our Trustees are very grateful to Hospice UK for helping us to deliver this event.

Our Trustees continue to ensure that the charity is managed properly and that all donations are maximised to the full to help the people we are trying to reach.

Part of that role in practice means that we give a great deal of consideration to where the money we receive will be used to make the biggest difference. We are especially interested in forming new partnerships with other charities.

We pride ourselves on funding pioneering projects, often encountering significant resistance to our proposals. In fact, we continue to encounter that response to some of our projects now. We always spend a lot of time judging risk. To this end, to date, not only have all our projects worked well, they have blazed the trail for other similar projects to be funded across the UK.

Results and Future Plans

The statement of financial activities shows a deficit for the year of £9,140.

We still have a small number of supporters who donate regularly through bank standing orders and we are also very grateful for the other donations we received. As we become more well known we are receiving more smaller one-off donations from individuals, many in memory of a loved one who has died or via others who nominate Hope for Home as their charity of choice at a particular special event. Income from sources such as these is rising.

In December 2018, our project worker in Gipsy Hill left. The Magnolia (drop-in) Club continues to run with a dedicated team of volunteers, and is greatly valued by people who attend. Our matched pairs of volunteers and people with dementia at home continue to be supported by St Christopher's Hospice and we are very grateful to St Christopher's Hospice for helping to maintain these important relationships.

We plan to continue this project with the remainder of its funding (50%) during 2019.

Reserves policy

The directors recognise the need to maintain an appropriate level of reserves to meet any unforeseen expenditure which may occur and they believe that the charity should hold £1,000 in reserve to cover expenses in the event of dissolution.

Directors and Trustees

The directors, who are also Trustees of the charity, all work on a voluntary basis. The names of the directors are listed on page 1.

Independent examiner

Richard Hewson, Chartered Accountant, has indicated that he is willing to be reappointed at the forthcoming annual general meeting.

This report has been prepared in accordance with the special provisions for small companies under Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006.

By Order of the Board,

S Burnard, Director

22 August 2019

Independent examiner's report to the trustees of Hope for Home Ltd.

I report on the accounts of the company for the year ended 30 November 2018 set out on pages 8 to 11.

This report is made solely to the charity's trustees, as a body, in accordance with Section 145 of the Charities Act 2011. My work has been undertaken so that I may state to the charity's trustees those matters I am required to state to them in this report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, I do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charity and the charity's trustees, as a body, for my work, for this report or for the opinions I have formed.

Responsibilities and basis of report

The charity's trustees (who are also the company's directors for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 ('the 2011 Act') and that an independent examination is needed. I am qualified to undertake the examination by being a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

Having satisfied myself that the charitable company's accounts are not subject to audit under company law and are eligible for independent examination, it is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act; and
- to follow the procedures laid down in the General Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act.

An independent examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and my report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention:

(1) which give me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 386 of the 2006 Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and which comply with the accounting requirements of section 396 of the 2006 Act and with the methods and principles of the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities

have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
